This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

REPORT OF THE AUDITOR OF STATE.

STATE OF IOWA,
OFFICE OF THE AUDITOR OF STATE,
DES MOINES, September 19, 1895.

To His Excellency, FRANK D. JACKSON, Governor of Iowa:

SIR:—In compliance with sub-division 11, section 66 of the Code, I present herewith my report of the financial affairs of the state for the biennial fiscal period beginning July 1, 1893, and ended June 30, 1895.

GENERAL REVENUE.

During the period ended June 30, 1895, there was paid into the treasury on account of general revenue, $3,524,254.35, which being added to the cash in the treasury at the beginning of the period, July 1, 1893, viz., $412,981.45, made a total of $3,937,-235.80, as shown by statement No. 1, available for current expenses.

The disbursements for the same period in the payment of auditor's warrants, amounted to $3,624,378.39, leaving a balance in the treasury June 30, 1895, of $312,857.41. The monthly reports of the county treasurers for the month of July, 1895, made to this office (see statement No. 28), show that there was $35,738.89 cash in their hands on the first day of July, 1895, belonging to the state, which added to the balance in the state treasury, shown above, makes a total of $348,596.30, with which to begin the next fiscal period.

The taxes levied in 1894 and previous years, yet due and uncollected, amount to $863,032.86 (see statement No. 29); from this must be deducted the amount of cash in the county treasurers' hands collected from state levy, not yet remitted, as shown by statement No. 28, amounting to $20,407.30, leaving $842,625.56, of which $678,405.16 is due on the list of 1894, and $184,627.70 on the lists of previous years. The amounts due on account of the various state institutions, shown by statement No. 29, viz., $60,114.44, less the amount shown by statement No. 28, viz., $15,331.59, to be in the hands of the county treasurers, collected and not yet remitted (and previously counted as cash on hand), leaving $44,782.85, will all be paid, and of the amount due on account of state levy, probably $600,000, making a total of $644,782.85, the amount due from the counties, which might reasonably be called available. This added to the total cash in state and county treasuries, viz., $348,596.30, makes the total available cash assets of the state at the close of business June 30, 1895, $993,379.15.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS.

Statement No. 8 is my estimate of the receipts for the next biennial period, amounting to $3,538,030, which is based upon a 2½ mill levy for 1895, and a 2 mill levy for 1896, and such additional receipts from other sources as the past and the future taken together seem to justify. I believe this estimate is conservative and will be fully realized, but do not think it would be prudent or safe to anticipate more. This added to the available resources shown above, viz., $993,379.15, makes the total available resources of the state for the next biennial period $4,531,409.15, from which, however, should be deducted $297,001.24, being the amount of the extraordinary appropriations of the Twenty-fifth General Assembly yet undrawn, as shown by statement No. 10, and the outstanding warrants on June 30, 1895, amounting to $73,950.25, as shown by statement No. 6, both of which are liabilities and must be met, making an aggregate of $370,951.49, which would leave the net available resources of the state for the next biennial period $4,160,457.66.

ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES.

Statement No. 9 is my estimate of the expenditures of the state for the next biennial period, and is based upon the present general laws and the expenditures during the last fiscal period, and amounts to $3,205,413.00 This does not include any special or extraordinary appropriations which may be made by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly. By deducting this from the probable available resources of the period ending June 30, 1897, as shown above, viz., $4,160,457.66, we find the probable available amount for extraordinary appropriations by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly to be $955,044.66. It is not impossible for the receipts to be less than estimated, or for the expenditures to be more than estimated, in which event it would be unsafe to go thus far with the extraordinary appropriations. As the state grows older and the population increases, the expenses will necessarily increase, and, judging from the past, in a far greater ratio than the receipts will increase, and I am fully persuaded that our state levy should be fixed at a rate sufficient to pay our current expenses and such extraordinary appropriations as may be deemed necessary by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly, as was done by the Twenty-fifth General Assembly. (See chapter 114.)

REVENUE ACCOUNTS.

I desire to reiterate the opinion I expressed in my former report, on page 7, in regard to the necessity of the state being assured, beyond doubt, as to the amount of revenue coming into its possession. If there was an absolute definite amount fixed by law, in dollars and cents, there would be no speculation as to the resources of the state, and the legislature could proceed with certainty to make the appropriations. There would then be no anxiety as to the condition of the treasury, and no danger whatever of the revenue being overdrawn.

A fixed amount based upon a two and one-half mill levy, apportioned among the counties, making them absolutely responsible for the payment of the same in quarterly installments, or otherwise, as the legislature in their wisdom might determine, giving to the counties the interest on all delinquent taxes, and also the proceeds from peddlers' licenses, would not work any hardship upon the counties, and at the same time accomplish the very desirable result of putting the state upon a solid financial basis.

ASSESSMENT OF REAL ESTATE AND PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The attention of your predecessor and the general assembly was called to the very flagrant violation of our revenue laws in the assessment of real estate and personal property on pages 7 and 8 of my former report. The evil still exists, and in view of the fact that the Twenty-fifth General Assembly failed to remedy the same by statutory enactment, and that too in the face of the fact that the revenue commission created by chapter 72, laws of 1892, which was passed for the very purpose of removing inequalities and gross irregularities in the assessment of property, and the further fact that said commission, after spending a great deal of painstaking time, and not a little expense, made their report and recommendations to the said general assembly, I am inclined to the opinion that future generations will continue to ask why the great state of Iowa has such a small valuation, and such an enforced high rate of taxation, and the stranger within our borders will continue to compare us unfavorably with other states that are not the peers of our own state.

RETURNS OF ASSESSORS TO COUNTY AND STATE AUDITORS.

The state board of equalization was again handicapped in its work this year by the failure to receive the abstract of assessment from Woodbury county until after the day fixed by law for its final adjournment, viz., the first Monday of August (see section 836, Code of 1873). The inability of the state board to complete its labors before said date and the consequent injustice done to the other ninety-eight counties of the state, which are prompt, and which do comply with the law, cannot be overestimated. As a rule county auditors have an inadequate clerical force allowed them by the board of supervisors to permit them to lose the valuable time necessary to complete their tax lists within the time fixed by law, which they are compelled to do by such delinquencies as that which has marked Woodbury county for years.

The Twenty-sixth General Assembly should so amend section 827, as applied to sections 825 and 829, Code of 1873, as to make any violation thereof decidedly uncomfortable to any who may violate the same in any of its provisions.

In the preparation of the statements contained in this report, I have again endeavored to give the most useful information in regard to the fiscal affairs of the state, and I trust you will find them so.

Statement No. 3 is in detail the bills allowed by the executive council under section 120 of the Code, embracing all supplies used and current expenses (except the stationery contracts), together with the several amounts paid the clerk of the executive council and to the messenger in the governor's office, amounting in all to $75,923.16, as against $54,084.09 during the period ended June 30, 1893.

The estimate made by me in my former report of $54,200 was inadequate, as will be seen. This was caused largely by the decision of the supreme court in the mandamus case brought by the adjutant-general to compel the auditor of state to issue warrants aggregating $13,156.27 to pay the state militia for services rendered in the so-called "Kelley Army" and other invasions, and riots throughout the state.

Statements Nos. 31 to 35 show the amount of fees earned by the various officers by months and the aggregate for the two years. By this it will be seen that this office earned $63,311.50 as against $63,127.90 during the former period; the clerk's office $4,373.60, as against $4,505 during the two years before; the secretary's office $17,911.13, as against $15,934.95 for the period ended June 30, 1893; $1,282 by the office of superintendent of public instruction, as against $1,140 during the period before this, and $12,317.37 by the office of oil inspector, as against $10,228.67 during the last period, making a total of $99,012 fees earned by the several state offices and paid into the treasury, as against a total of $94,936.52 during the last biennial period, an increase of $4,075.48 in fees earned.

SAVINGS AND LOAN OR BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

I am firmly convinced that the interests of our citizens, who are investing in most cases their hard earned savings, and in many instances at a sacrifice of the ordinary comforts of life, should be protected by some good, wholesome law, bringing institutions of this character under state supervision.

During the past few years many savings and loan or building and loan associations have been organized in this state. The aggregate assets of these financial institutions amount now to many millions of dollars. They are likely to increase in number and volume of business in the future, if proper and suitable laws are enacted by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly providing the manner of organization and the necessary privileges and powers for the proper conduct of the business, to the end that these very necessary and important financial institutions may be safe, stable and profitable for all persons who may become members.

Savings and loan associations occupy a field in finance which is peculiarly their own. Their true mission, or legitimate business, is that of accumulating a loan fund from small sums of money paid upon stock at regular periods and the making of loans to their members from this fund for a long period of time, which loans are to be repaid in monthly, or other installments, until the stock is matured and the loans canceled.

This field is one that ordinary national, state or savings banks cannot safely occupy, because they cannot make long time loans with short time deposits.

It is quite evident that there is a great demand for long time loans which cannot be supplied by banks, and that this demand must be supplied, if at all, by savings and loan associations.

Since safety and stability of capital is of paramount importance in all financial institutions, since the true mission of savings and loan associations is to make long time loans, and since these associations cannot make such loans safely on short time deposits any more than banks can do so, it therefore follows that all such associations must incorporate in the plan of business such efficient, reasonable and proper safeguards as will in the conduct of their business protect the association from sudden withdrawals or impairment of their capital.

Good laws have been enacted by Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Missouri, Nebraska, and many other sister states, and it would seem high time that the state of Iowa should also enact a suitable law.

BANKS.

In compliance with the requirements of section 24, chapter 60, laws of 1874, I herein present statements of the condition of the savings banks and of the state banks, so called, which were under the supervision of this office June 29, 1895, which I have also compiled in separate form for the Twenty-sixth General Assembly. Two years ago the statement of 325 banks were embodied in my report to the general assembly; on June 30, 1894, 350 banks reported to this office, while the present report contains statements from 170 saving banks and 194 state banks. It will thus be seen that there has been an increase of 39 in the number of banks during the past two years. The following tables show the total assets and liabilities of the savings and state banks at the close of business, June 29, 1895:

SAVINGS BANKS.

ASSETS.	Amount.	LIABILITIES.	Amount.
Bills receivable	$ 50,987,220.22	Capital stock	$16,161,300.00
Cash and cash items	3,109,298.44	Due depositors	43 827,136.55

Total	$ 64,045,057.89	Total	$64,045,057.89

The statements made at the close of business, June 29, 1895, show the following changes in the conditions of the banks as compared with the statements made at the close of business, June 30, 1894:

ASSETS.

Bills receivable—increase	$4,945,789.92
Over drafts—increase	109.833.38
Real and personal property—increase	269,880.42
Total increase	$5,325,503.73
Less cash and credits—decrease	2,551,712.65
Net increase of assets	$2,773,791.07

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock—increase	$ 489,500.00
Deposits—increase	1,839,300.50
Indebtedness to banks and others—increase	240,257.83
Surplus—increase	173,272.64
Undivided profits—increase	31,460.10
Net increase of liabilities	$2,773,791.07

The increase in deposits during the past year, as shown by the above comparative table, is especially noticeable, for it indicates an encouraging return of confidence on the part of our people in the banks; while the increase in loans and discounts goes to show that there is at present an active demand for money, and that funds placed with these institutions find ready investment.

In submitting this, my biennial bank report, it is a source of gratification to me to be able to state that no bank, under the supervision of this office, has been compelled to close its doors, even temporarily, since the publication of my report two years ago. Such a record reflects the highest credit upon the management of the state and savings banks, and is one of which every citizen of Iowa has just reason to be proud.

In my last biennial report I made six recommendations. Four of these recommendations were enacted into law by the Twenty-fifth General Assembly. By the provisions of chapters 29 and 30, laws of 1894, directors were empowered to make good, by assessment, impairment of the capital stock of a state or savings bank; the liability to a state bank on the part of an officer was limited; loans to directors must be passed upon by the board; an examining committee, whose duty it is to make quarterly examinations and report to the full board, was provided for; bank officers were prohibited from using the funds of the bank, or its deposits, except for regular business transactions; and it was made a penal offense for any bank officer, agent or clerk, to make false entries or statements in regard to the condition of the bank to any person authorized to examine the same. It is unnecessary for me to emphasize the importance of these enactments and to state that they are in the interest of better and safer banking.

I would respectfully renew the following recommendations made two years ago:

First. A minimum cash reserve should be fixed by law.

Second. Investments in real estate, for the use of the bank, should be limited.

In addition to these I would recommend:

Third. That the manner in which a state or savings bank should proceed when it desires to dissolve its corporate existence and withdraw from the supervision of this office should be clearly outlined by law.

Fourth. Section 4, of chapter 30, laws of the Twenty-fifth General Assembly should fix a penalty where the board of directors fail to appoint from its members an examining committee and where such examining committee, if appointed, fails or neglects to do its duty as required by law.

In support of these recommendations it is only necessary for me to state that no bank ought to be permitted to withdraw from legal supervision unless it can show to the satisfaction of this office that it is entirely solvent and able to pay all just claims.

The examining committee provided for by section 4, of the act already mentioned, is a most important one. In order that this committee may be of such service to the stockholders and depositors as the law contemplates that it should be, it is necessary that it be diligent, active and prompt in the discharge of its duties; hence I have suggested the amendment above mentioned. A bank whose affairs are known and controlled by one or two men alone, and whose directors are not informed, and do not try to inform themselves of its condition, is one most apt to be mismanaged. Bank directors should possess intelligent knowledge of the bank's affairs and legislation which places upon these officers greater responsibility for the conduct and management of the institution with which they are connected is needed.

Respectfully,

C. G. McCarthy,
Auditor of State.
